Dance Exams

The dance students at Studio PAVAS can take exams through the Performing Arts Educators of Canada (PAEC) and Acrobatic Arts Inc. Students of all ages study and prepare for their exams during their dance classes from September to June. PAEC examinations can be taken in the following dance genres: Jazz, Tap, and Ballet. Acrobatics Arts examinations can be taken in Acro dance. The fees for the exams are in addition to regular class fees and are paid at the time of booking the adjudication dates. Extra exam practices are held on Fridays for 3 or 4 weeks before the exam.

Competitive Dance Team **

At Studio PAVAS, dance students may audition to join our competitive team. The competitive and advanced program offers students a chance to enhance their performance skills, build confidence, acquire discipline and be part of a team. The Studio PAVAS competitive team competes in a minimum of three, 3-day weekend competitions each year from March to May. Students may compete from the age of 6 to the advanced level and participate in routines for solos, duets, trios and groups, in a variety of dance genres. The competitive team starts training in mid-September until May or later (TBD). Call the office for more information and to book an assessment.

Rehearsals for competitive routines are scheduled during the week and/or on Sundays.

See schedule for times and dates (September to May)

* Competitions or special community performances may operate depending on COVID- 19 guidelines.
